28 COWS KILLED

When Lightning Struck Tree Under Which They Were Gathered.

Burlington, Aug. 18.—Twenty-eight cows gathered under one tree on the farm of D. M. Baldwin in Hinesburg were killed Thursday night when the tree was struck by lightning. The bodies of the animals were found yesterday morning.

Jonesville, Aug. 18.—At 10 o'clock Thursday night a violent storm, accompanied by lightning, visited this section and caused a large amount of damage. A barn belonging to Aleck Miner, on the road between Hinesburg and Huntington, was struck and burned to the ground.

In the barn were 5 tons of hay, nearly all the farming tools, harnesses, pigs and property valued at more than $1,000. All that could be saved were a few wagons. The cattle and horses were out at pasture and were safe. Some other places in the vicinity were struck with smaller losses.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Cantaloupe sundae at Drown's, 15c. Home-made candies for sale to-day. Barre Candy Kitchen.

The Red Cross Pharmacy has running hot water at soda fountain, the only one having same.—adv.

Mrs. Mitchell Goslant has returned to her home in Lanesboro, after a visit with friends in the city.

S. E. Lawton has returned to his home in Brattleboro, after passing a few days in the city on business.

Attilio Bianchi has returned to his home in Groton, after passing a few days with friends in the city.

W. E. Mayo returned yesterday to his home in Berlin, N. H., after a business visit of a few days in Barre.

Charles H. Reagan has resumed his duties with the B. & M. T. & P. Co., after having attended the convention of the state federation of labor in Rutland as the representative of the street car operators' union.

George Murray, jr., who has been detained at his home on South Main street because of quarantine restrictions, has resumed his duties as manager of the local branch of the Sullivan Machinery Co. Mary, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray, who developed symptoms of poliomyelitis, has been released from quarantine and is making good progress toward recovery, although one limb retains evidence of paralysis.

Among the first of Windsor county's young men to qualify for the new national army is David R. Linekin of Springfield, a former resident of Barre and a son of Mrs. George L. Linekin, recently of Barre, and now a resident of Thomaston, Me. Mr. Linekin's serial number was 1,752 and he is one of the first four to pass the physical examination and waive all claim to exemption. He has been certified to the state board as accepted and is ready to join the colors when called.

The crew of linemen who have been assigned the task of building a farmers' line from Camel's Hump, over Ricker mountain to Waterbury for the New England Telephone Co., returned to Barre yesterday for the week end, having established a camp and made a beginning on the work. Poles which were cut on Washington heights and shipped from Barre were unloaded at Waterbury this week and when the linemen return to the mountain Monday work will begin in earnest.

Accompanied by Sheriff F. H. Tracy, George Attaya of Hartford, Conn., a traveling salesman wanted by the local authorities for alleged forgery in connection with a payment made for lodging and meals at Hotel Barre, returned to Vermont yesterday and is detained at the county jail pending the return to Barre of the state's Atty. Earle R. Davis, who will fix a date for the man's arraignment in city court. Attaya was arrested in Worcester, Mass., a fortnight ago by the Boston police, who acted in behalf of Sheriff Tracy and the state's attorney. Attaya decided to oppose his extradition to Vermont and for a time was imprisoned in the city jail in Boston. A hearing on the extradition request of Gov. Graham was held in Boston Tuesday.

Preparations for paving on South Main street took another long stride yesterday afternoon when the contract between the city and J. C. DeBrune was signed by the members of the street committee and the council. This detail of the project was delayed for a few days because of a misunderstanding as to who should bear the expense of carting material from the cars to the job.

Contractor DeBrune, contrary to the hold-up tradition associated with the paving project, will not postpone operations, as he is ready to begin work Wednesday morning. He is undecided whether he will sub-let the contract for the cement work, but excavation will begin on schedule time and if the contractor is favored with fair weather and plenty of labor is available, the project will be completed Nov. 1. This was no ceremony for the beginning on the long delayed work has been arranged, but it has been suggested that Mayor Glyson, who stood for permanent work on the street, turn the first spadeful of earth and lay the corner stone. Work will begin at the terminal of the paving just north of the Barre & Chelsea railroad.

DOWSVILLE.
